GERMANS PLAN CIVIL WAR LOOMS WORLD CAMPAIGN DARK IN GERMANY

WILL ENGAGE IN MAMMOTH PROPAGANDA TO ESCAPE PENALTY OF THEIR CRIMES

By the Associated Press
PARIS, March 22.—Germans are preparing a formidable world propaganda in favor of a revision of the Versailles treaty and the holding of a now international conference in which the vanquished nations might be represented, for the object of changing or eliminating many clauses of the present treaty between the Allied nations and Germany, according to a Geneva dispatch received here. A book entitled "the greatest crime of humanity" is being prepared and ten million copies for free distribution, especially in America, England and France, and it is said that millions of other pamphlets along the same line, will follow.

The reactionary revolt in Berlin March 13, put a temporary stop to the movement it is said.

Trouble Spreads in North BERLIN, March 22.—Southern and eastern parts of Germany are reported quiet today, although unrest was said to be spreading in Pomerania and Mecklenburg. Communists still were in authority today at Stern, but conditions at Kiel were reported quiet.

The marine brigade and the Baltic troops which occupied Berlin during the Kapp regime, have been cleared out of Charlottenberg, and have joined the other military units at Kemp. These troops, it was said, will be counted on as the chief protectors of Berlin.

Three more towns of Westphalia southeast of Muenster, have been taken by the Communists, it was stated, and the movement was spreading north and east.

Pitched battles have been fought official information showed, and two regiments of government troops have been forced to fall back on the fortress of Wesel, on the right bank of the Rhine, 22 miles northwest of Essen, after heavy losses had been sustained on both sides. Ten officers in one regiment were killed.

Material Arrives for Beginning of the Water Extensions

The city authorities have just received the blue prints of the water and sewage extensions which are to be constructed during the present year, and it is announced that work on the proposed extensions will begin in the near future. The officials have also received three carloads of pipes and fittings which have been unloaded and are ready for distribution.

The beginning of this much needed improvement will give additional impetus to the gratifying progress now being made by the city. The work of paving several miles of streets is expected to begin presently, and it is but fair to expect that by the beginning of summer Ada will be alive with municipal improvements.

FRANKLIN ANNOUNCES FOR COURT CLERK. In this issue of the News Luther Franklin announces his candidacy for the office of court clerk, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in August. Mr. Franklin decided some time ago to make the race for this office and his formal announcement appears today.

Luther Franklin has lived in what is now Pontotoc county for almost 25 years, most of that time being spent at Pittsburgh and Ross. He spent his boyhood and early manhood on a farm in this county and was a farmer and stockman until he came to Ada as assistant court clerk under A. R. Sugg in the summer of 1918. Since that time he has worked in the office he now aspires to and has acquired an accurate knowledge of the work of the office and how it should be conducted.

Mr. Franklin is a young man in the prime of life, honest, energetic, and fair in all his dealings, and is well qualified for the office he is asking for. The Evening News asks its readers to carefully consider the candidacy of Luther Franklin.

Deaths. R. M. Wilson died at his home at Vansos Saturday evening at the age of 72. Influenza is given as the cause of his death. He was buried at Center Sunday afternoon.

Frankie, the 18 months old baby girl of J. D. Choute, died this morning near Bebe. The burial will take place tomorrow at the Egypt cemetery.

CIVIL WAR LOOMS DARK IN GERMANY

OLD VETERANS ARMED TO THE TEETH THREATEN THE EBER GOVERNMENT WITH ANNIHILATION

By the Associated Press
PARIS, March 22.—Spartan forces in the Ruhr Valley of Germany number from 20,000 to 40,000 according to latest advices. They are well organized, being composed of the old shock troops and veterans, supplied with artillery, machine guns and mine throwers, and having batteries of 77 centimeter field guns with plenty of ammunition.

William Beerfield, a relative of Maximilian Harden, is commander of these troops. He is also known as the man who published the report of Prince Lichnowsky blaming the German government for starting the world war, and was also prominent in the Spartacist outbreak at the time of the armistice and also in January 1918.

Authorities of the Ebert government are concentrating troops and planning to surround the Ruhr Valley and force the Spartacists to capitulate. These men however, are younger and less well trained than the Reds.

Rioters Kill Thousands PARIS, March 22.—Eight thousand persons have been killed since the German revolt broke out on March 13, according to advice received here. Of this number 850 were killed in Berlin alone.

Bottling Works Preparing For Summer Trade

The Ada Coca Cola Bottling works management is making rather extensive preparations for the opening summer trade. Two large auto trucks have been added to their present equipment and will be used for purposes of transportation. Two automatic bottling machines have also been added to the establishment.

The company has just received two car loads of bottles and is engaged in overhauling the plant generally in order to have one of the best equipped plants in the country ready to supply all demands.

Former Citizen of County Writes To The Evening News

In a letter just received by the Evening News, G. L. Babb, who formerly lived in this county, gives an interesting description of the country about Tushkahoma, where he now resides.

"Tushkahoma is one of the prettiest and most picturesque towns in Oklahoma. Unlike the magnificent grandeur of the Rockies the landscape resembles the foothills of Switzerland or the highlands of Scotland, with its smooth undulating ridges and valleys and with its pines and oaks blending with the gray green color of the huge rocks.

The town nestles in the valley on the north side of the Kiamichi river which drains Pushmataha county.

"The state highway runs through the town and the matter of good roads will soon be settled for all time to come. The Indian Female academy for girls is one of the oldest and best Indian schools in the state.

The influence of this institution is reflected in the good citizenship of the community. There are two churches—the Methodist and Baptist—with good working organizations. The town has many nice residences and business establishments.

I have four little girls attending the academy."

NORMAL WILL STAGE COMIC OPERA SOON

The people of Ada are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to "Captain Crossbones," a Comic Opera, which the Normal students will give at the Normal on Friday night, April 9th.

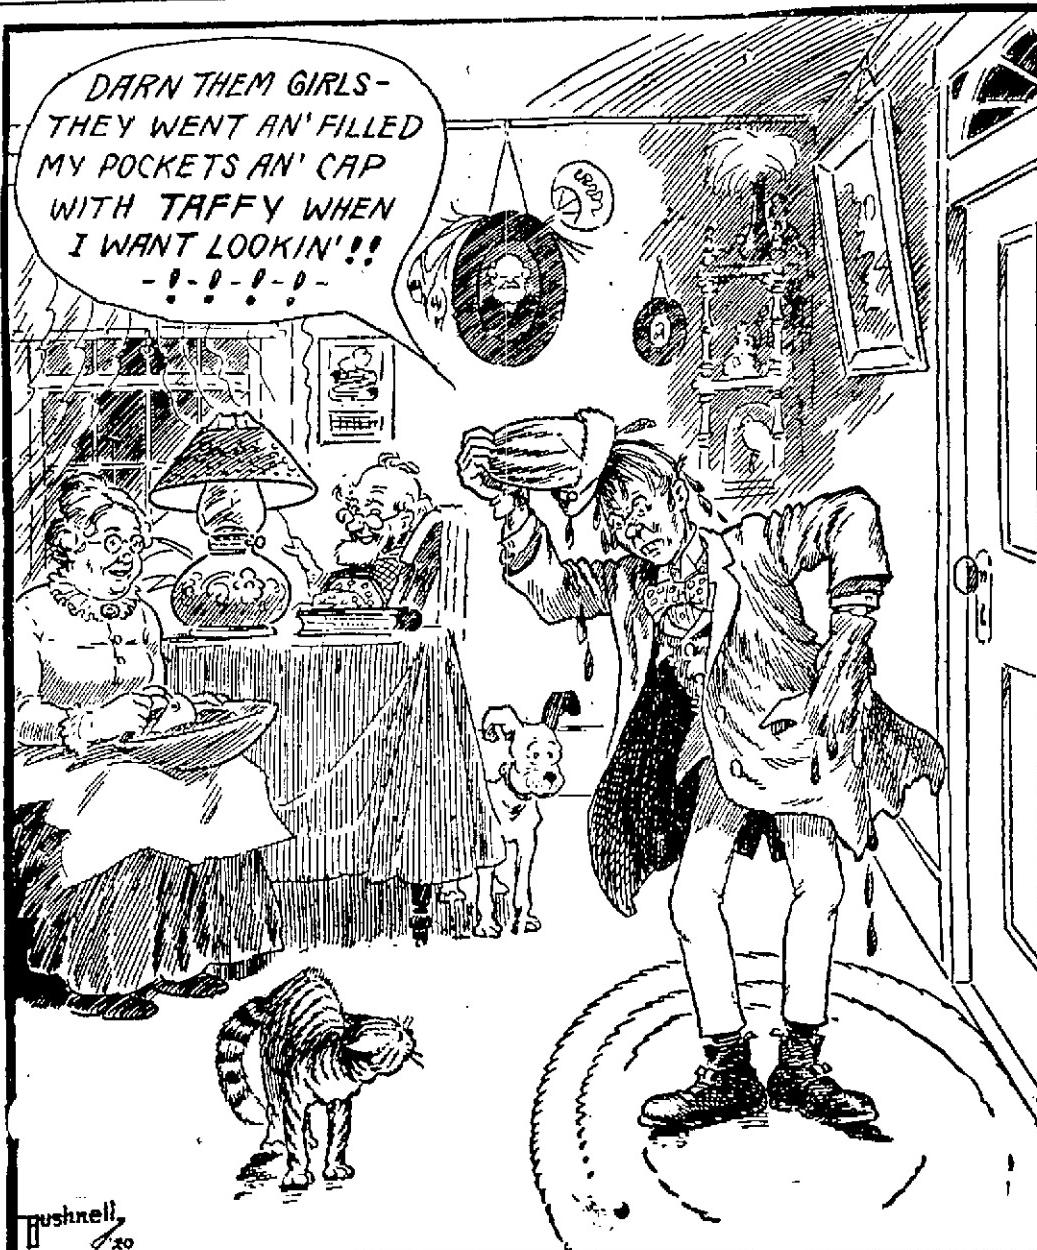

The Opera is under the direction of Miss Emma K. Keller, supervisor of public school music at the Normal.

The students are working hard under the direction of Miss Keller to make this opera a success, which it is sure to be.

Miss Keller gave a performance similar to this one last year but she expects this to surpass that one as it has a heavier cast.

FREIGHT RATES BEING STUDIED WITH A VIEW TO THEIR READJUSTMENT TO PRESENT CONDITIONS

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Hearings to determine the basis for an adjustment of railroad rates so as to yield the roads a rate of 5 1/2 percent on their aggregate value, as provided in the new transportation law, began today before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Commission is to determine whether the adjustment shall be made for the carriers as a whole, or in different groups, or territories, to be designated by the commission, and what methods shall be employed in determining the aggregate value of the rate on property.

Hearings are expected to continue three days.

The Honest Bill Shows Delight Sunday's Crowd

Sunday was a busy day for the employees of the Honest Bill shows, wintering on the fair grounds, as hundreds of visitors were there looking at the baby camel and the other animals of interest. Of course, cupid came in for his share of admiration, as he is the best known animal in this part of the country. The elephants and lions came in for considerable attention also, more especially from the young school boys and girls.

These shows will leave Ada next Sunday for their summer's rounds. The Teacher Training class will meet this evening at the Christian church at 7:30. The subject for this evening is, "A Study of the Mind." There are some very important things in this lesson for the Sunday school teacher. It is hoped that many of the teachers will be present, and also many others.

BENSON GAVE SIMS TERROR REIGNS BRITISH WARNING IN ALL IRELAND

GROUCHY SALT SAYS ADMIRAL WARNED HIM IN ORDINARY CONVERSATION.

SECRET SOCIETIES CONTROL THE COUNTRY AND MURDER IS AN EVERYDAY MATTER.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Rear Admiral William S. Benson, chief of naval operations, was the officer who told Rear Admiral Sims "not to let the British pull the wool over your eyes; we would be soon fight them as the Germans." Admiral Sims testified today before the Senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war.

Admiral Sims said the remark was made just after he had received his final instructions from Secretary Daniels, preparatory to his departure for England, on the eve of the entry of the United States into the war. He added, however, that it was not made in the course of formal instructions but during a conversation in the office of Rear Admiral Palmer, chief of the bureau of navigation. The witness told the committee Admiral Benson repeated his admonition the following day and made the same remark six months later, in London.

Admiral Sims did not pay particular attention to the statement at that time because he believed Admiral Benson was intensely anti-British. He added that this belief was entertained generally throughout the service. An aide recently called his attention to the remark, the admiral said, and Admiral Palmer also told him that he remembered hearing Admiral Benson make the statement.

The witness was reluctant to give the name of the officer, but Chairman Hale insisted. "Then I will tell you the whole story" said Admiral Sims.

Judgment Day In Police Court This Morning

More than ordinary interest centers around Marguerite Clark's latest Paramount-Aircraft picture, "Widow By Proxy," to be shown at the Liberty Theatre Today because it is the dainty star's first production since becoming acclimated to the new California atmosphere in which she left the metropolis and joined the colony of motion picture stars at Los Angeles.

A large amount of that celebrated California sunshine is reflected in "Widow By Proxy," and it is one of the brightest light comedies in which Miss Clark has yet appeared.

The little favorite has the part of the pretty "bachelor girl," who poses as her recently widowed chum in order to win for her the inheritance which the real widow is too proud to claim. Two delightful love stories are woven into the plot, which is crowded with pleasant surprises and a startling climax. It was adapted from the Broadway stage success by the same name and was directed by Walter Edwards. Nigel Barrie is leading man.

CHEAPEST RENT PAID IN CHICAGO

RESIDENTS OF HOUSE BOATS PAY ONLY $1.00 PER MONTH BY LIVING IN BOATS.

CHICAGO, March 22.—While Chicago's flat dwellers are forming unions to fight alleged rent profiteers and council committees are investigating 100 and 200 per cent increases in rents, several hundred families are living here in comfort and paying rents averaging $1 per month.

The families who apparently have solved one big problem in the high cost of living are the owners of the houseboats which dot the various branches of the Chicago river, the Calumet river, and the lakes of the South Chicago district.

Land owners usually charge the houseboaters $1 a month for mooring privileges. If the scenery becomes monotonous or the neighbors undesirable the colonists need only crank up the gasoline "flivver" boat attached to most of the house boats and be towed away to new pastures.

When the colonists find a satisfactory location and settle down for a stay of any length they usually install all the modern improvements, including city water, electric lights and a telephone. Some of the boats have their own electric lighting plants.

A large colony of the boats wintered this year in the vicinity of Western avenue and Belmont avenue bridges on the north branch of the Chicago river. Their colony was presided over by Captain Streeter, one time commander of the "Desert of Lake Michigan," who for years maintained squatter's rights and in the summer time has a veg-front. A typical boat in this colony has five rooms—parlor, dining room, kitchen and two bedrooms—all finished in white pine and comfortably furnished. The boat cost $1,000. The owner, with permission of the land owner from whom he rents his mooring site, has installed a chicken run on the bank, over a portion of the Chicago water table plot.

Houseboating the year around is not undesirable, the colonists say. The five room boat is heated with three stoves and uses about one and a half tons of coal a month.

TWENTY THOUSAND FOR SPEED WINNER

INDIANAPOLIS, March 22.—Twenty thousand dollars more will be added to the purse offered prize winners in the 500-mile international sweepstakes race to be run over the Indianapolis speedway, if a campaign started among local automobile concerns is successful.

George M. Dickson, president of the local automobile plant, is sponsor for the campaign. He has suggested that subscriptions be given by the manufacturers and that the money collected will be paid to the automobile drivers on a basis of $100 for each lap in which they are in front.

The sweepstakes for the last few years has been for a purse of $50,000.

FIRST DIVISION WILL STAGE CIRCUS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 22.—The famous first division, U. S. A. will stage a circus in Louisville the first week of July on the same pre-tent scale that characterized its original production in Montebourg, Germany, in 1919 while the division was a part of the American army of occupation.

Lieut. Col. Harcourt Hervey and a committee of seven army officers are rounding out plans for the reproduction at Camp Zachary Taylor in which more than 200 soldiers of the division will take part. Col. Hervey directed the show during performances in Germany before the American forces and also before the British and French armies.

The circus, as it will be given here, will be similar to the original production. In Germany, the performances were featured by American wild western scenes depicting cabaret life, riding of bucking broncos by cow boys and girls, stage coach and train holdups, and Indian fights. There were scenes also in which Roman knights in chariots drawn by speedy horses fought duels with swords.

THE WORDS.

"It's a great shame," said Beautiful.

"Still, you're happy, aren't you?" asked Gorgeous.

"To be sure," said Beautiful; "but I would like a little more attention."

That is why I've tried to be such a nice word all these years and have tried to stand for something—well something pretty and lovely and gorgeous and everything else which makes up something which is beautiful!"

"And," said Gorgeous, "I can feel the same way as you do. For I've tried to be a magnificent word. I've tried to be such a nice word."

"So have I," said Glorious. "I've

tried to be such a nice word."

"What is the matter?" asked Won-about?"

"It is hard to tell you what I have been talking about, or what I have been thinking about," said Beautiful,

"because I don't want to hurt your feelings, and I don't want you to think

I'm jealous."

"Do tell me," said Wonderful. "Per-story.

"Won't you tell it, Beautiful? Won't you tell what you thought was a great shame, and what you still doubt-

"Yes," said Beautiful, "I will. For after all, you cheered me up by asking me if, in spite of all, I still was not happy. And I am happy. I am just a little upset that I am not better thought of and that people don't like me better."

"Explain it all to Wonderful," said

Glorious. "We must tell Wonderful what we've been thinking and not say anything behind Wonderful's back we wouldn't say to Wonderful's face."

"Ah, that is our nice, good, sunny, bright, Glorious speaking," said Beautiful. "Yes, I will tell Wonderful everything, for I think you words understand what I mean now, don't you?"

"I think we do," said Gorgeous,

"for we began to talk before Wonderful came to talk. Wonderful is always so busy and doesn't have so much time to talk."

"Yes, we understand," said Glorious.

"so just explain to Wonderful."

"You see," said Beautiful, "we've all been feeling rather badly that no one used us. You see, we're always trying to live up to our names. We're always trying to be beautiful and gorgeous and glorious.

"Since I commenced taking Tanlac all my troubles of eight years standing have left me and I can do as big a day's work as any man," said J. Curry, a well-known flagman on the Key Route System who lives at 577 West Eleventh street, Oakland, Cal.

"I had the worst sort of chronic indigestion," continued Mr. Curry. "I could hardly retain a thing on my stomach and had spells of belching and nausea almost every meal and a bad taste in my mouth nearly all the time. I was so badly constipated that I had to take a laxative nearly every day, was troubled a lot with lumbago and was so nervous that at night I would roll and tumble from one side of the bed to the other without getting near enough sleep and when morning came I would be so tired I simply had to drag myself to work."

"I began taking Tanlac and will try right here it measures up to everything people say of it, for it has put me back in as fine health as I ever was. I eat anything set before me without the slightest bad after effects. I sleep like a log every night and all my other troubles are gone. I have more life and energy about me than I have had in years and can't praise Tanlac enough, for it is the most dependable medicine I ever heard of."

Austrian Sailors Are Now Joining American Marine

GALVESTON, Texas, March 22.—Thousands of Austrian mariners, prevented under the terms of the Treaty of Versailles from sailing under their own flag, are seeking employment in the United States merchant marine, according to Captain O. J. Christiansen, in charge of the shipping board's sea service bureau here. The captain received a letter from the Austrian consul-general at Hamburg, stating the plight of the Austrian seamen is deplorable.

Former officers of the imperial Austrian navy, skilled electricians, expert machinists, telegraph operators, engineers and assistants, the letter says, are among those who are anxious to sail under the American flag.

The men seeking employment in this country, the letter states, "are mariners heart and soul," but owing to the fact that their country no longer possesses egress to the sea "never can hope to again practice their beloved profession under the flag of their own country."

Hundreds of applicants for positions, according to the consul-general's letters, are of the upper stratum of society, speak several foreign languages and are otherwise qualified to hold responsible positions in the merchant marine.

CHICAGO, March 22.—A herbivorous dinosaur, a drove of South American peccaries and a zebra went riding down Michigan boulevard in automobiles the other day.

The occasion was moving day at the Field museum, where the skeleton of the animals had reposed since world's fair days, 28 years ago. They were being moved to the new museum in Grant park.

The dinosaur, whose 80-foot skeleton weighs five tons, was moved in sections. It will take three months to take him apart, move the bones, and reassemble the creature, according to E. S. Riggs, expert in paleontology of the museum.

AS THE STARS TURN RED

Present indications are that the dark clouds hovering over the German nation may pass without the precipitation of civil war. While considerable fighting has been done and the situation is yet far from reassuring, all signs are far more hopeful than they were when the reactionaries last Monday inaugurated their coup d'etat.

But enough has transpired already to convince the world that we are sitting today on an angry volcano. The German insurrection synchronized with similar outbreaks in Turkey, Egypt, Afghanistan, Hungary, and India. The trouble of Fiume is still unsettled and may engulf Italy in instant war with the Jugo-Slav. The armies of the Bolshevik hang like the wings of death on the frontiers of Poland. The world is today as far from peace as it was in 1914 when the Hunnish hordes overran the Belgian marches.

Moreover, the tragedy now impending is rendered far more appalling by the general knowledge that German intrigue has planned another world cataclysm. It is most sinister that every revolution attempted in the last fortnight developed within the sphere of German influence and was directed at one or more of the Allied nations. When Kapp began his bid for Imperial power, Ludendorff was holding secret conclave with the Reds of Moscow. German officers and German guns have appeared in every outbreak from the Rhine to the Ganges. There is no doubt that the Spring offensive of 1920 has begun.

And the situation of the Allies promises much to those who once again dream of world dominion. The armies of the allies are demobilized. The ring of steel drawn about the mad dogs of Europe in 1918 is altogether broken and broken perhaps forever. All overseas contingents are back at home. The machinations of diplomats and the interminable debates of politicians have sown seeds of discord among the nations that once together dared death to save civilization. Treason never found a fitter moment to hurl its bolt.

We are not able to agree with those Americans who so complacently declare that the people of Europe should go to work for themselves and quit looking to America for aid. There are millions of people in Europe who through no fault of their own have nothing to work with. They have no seed to plant. They have no tools to work with. They have no land to cultivate, for thousands of their acres were blown to pieces by high explosive. The very soil is dead in many places. They haven't a single thing with which to renew their struggle in life. They lack clothing and are without bread. Tens of thousands of them are in the last stages of tuberculosis. This being true, in God's own name how can they possibly begin to support themselves?

The conviction of Newberry of Michigan in one respect only is gratifying. It will serve as a stern warning to other reckless millionaires who may be tempted to pay for what they want and take it. But it is to be hoped that there are very few similar cases and that the Newberry case is an exception to a general rule of honesty. We would prefer to believe that Newberry is the only man of wealth who has bribed his way into the senate. We cannot understand the mental processes of the citizen who rejoices in the conviction of Newberry and the shame of Michigan. We regret that a single such case has been reported and sincerely hope that we shall never have another case of its kind.

Tomorrow is not going to be half so bad as you think. If everyone in the country had half as much trouble as you think you have, this world wouldn't last till July. And it is probable that other people have more trouble than you have.

After working for 250 days to make it impossible for the United States to get mixed up in European affairs, the United States senate has cinched the matter by demanding free government for Ireland.

New York has less than six times the population of Oklahoma, but the cost of her state government is fourteen times as much. New York has a Republican legislature.

HEAD OF GERMAN FORCES TAKES SALUTE

Cross marks General von Lüttwitz, reviewing Baltic troops.

This photograph, recently received from Germany is significant in view of late events in the German capital. General von Lüttwitz was a Lieutenant of Noske under the Ebert time. He took a prominent part in the new commander-in-chief of Germany's military forces. It will be noted in the accompanying photograph that he does not require the once famous "goose step" from his troops.

It seems while Toliver and another student were in the Electric Shoe shop on South Broadway, that Doc leaned a little too heavy on one of the front show cases and the glass gave way thus cutting his hand quite painfully. He also suffered quite a pecuniary loss, being assessed $4.50, the extent of the damages to the show window.

CHICAGO CHILDREN ARE NOW GARDENING

CHICAGO, March 24.—One hundred and twenty-five thousand Chicago school children will have truck gardens this year, according to Dudley Grant Hayes, head of the school extension work. The vegetables they raise will be worth more than a million dollars, he estimates.

Hayes has asked the school authorities to grant special credits for school garden work, and is arranging for paid instructors to advise the young gardeners.

Chicago had 90,000 child gardeners last year, as compared to 5,000 in New York city. Pupils of one school cleared more than $2,000 on an investment of $297.

The Court also reversed the Oklahoma Supreme Court decree, holding the Oklahoma Ginning Company of Chandler in contempt for charging more than the Commission had prescribed.

WILL ASK RECEIVER
FOR DISPUTED LAND

By the Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 22.—A Federal receiver, to take over all properties in the Red River district, until the dispute between Texas and Oklahoma is finally settled, will be asked by Attorney General Freeling, he announced today. He will leave for Washington tonight to place the matter before the United States Supreme Court. He received word today that the Attorney General of Texas, with his assistants will be in Washington to resist the order of Federal Judge Youman at Enid.

Texas officials, Attorney General Freeling said, have refused to consider the appointment of a receiver for the properties, pending settlement of the case. Attorney General Freeling hopes to have that action taken by agreement between the two states, and asked for a conference last week.

DADDY'S EVENING
FAIRY TALE

by Mary Graham Bonner

SPIDER'S CURIOSITY.

"They may not think the spider is a curious creature, though again they may think so," said Mr. Spider, "for I am sure I cannot keep track of what they think."

"But last summer I was attracted to a house which looked rather cool and comfortable and as though the people who lived in it had gone away and left the blinds down.

"Now when I say I was attracted to me and so I went there, I went in first through a crack under the door. I looked about me when I got inside and I thought to myself: Dear me, I have the whole place to myself."

"But I found that a number of spider friends and cousins had come to the house too.

"Well," they said, upon seeing me, "have you come to this hotel to board? It's really quite good. Meals are fine. We've found a number of delicious little creatures to nibble at."

"Yes," I said, "I've come to this hotel to board, but I won't pay my board."

"Oh, won't you?" said they.

"I will not," I answered. "I do not pay board. It's a foolish thing to do, a waste of time, and besides I haven't the money. I wouldn't pay board for anything, for it spoils people."

"Yes, they think they can do anything when they charge board. They can be rude and only give you so much of this and so much of that, and they have to watch over you to see that you don't eat more than you are allowed. At least that is my idea of boarding, though I suppose for those who have plenty of money it is all right."

"But I have no money, none at all."

"Neither have I," said the spider, who was listening.

"Therefore I cannot board," said Mr. Spider.

"Well, as I was saying, my relatives and friends talked to me and when I said that I wouldn't pay my board they said: 'Oh, that is quite all right, Mr. Spider. None of us do. Besides we feel sure the people who have gone away will be glad if they hear that some of the Spider family are watching over their house in their absence.'

"So I settled down, but after a time I began to feel as though I would like to be busy. Every one around me was working."

"And one day one of the other spiders said to me: 'Mr. Spider, did you bring your work?'

"Yes indeed," I answered. "I have it here with me."

"Then, of course, I thought I would choose a good spinning table or spinning chair, or some place where I would be comfortable and cozy a spinning."

"Just as I was thinking about it I happened to take a look at a telephone upon a table."

"There will I go," I said to the others.

"But," they told me, "the telephone is a modern thing and spinning is an old, old thing to do."

"Well," I answered, "I will mix the old and the new. I will work around the modern telephone. I will spin a web so when the people come back they will have to talk through Spider land in order to talk to their friends."

"But I will tell you the real reason why I went to that telephone for my working place.

"I thought it would be nice to hear what was going on. I thought it would be nice to hear all the news from afar without having to work and work and spin and spin to get any distance."

"It was really and truly curious. I thought I'd like the tinkle of the bell and the sounds of the buzzing wires. I would just hear what folks were saying at the other end and if they would ask for the family I would be able to have a good spider's laugh on them."

"Did the family ever come back?"

"Yes," said the spider, "but they were an ungrateful lot and my web was quite destroyed. I hurried away from such rude people, hurried away I can tell you. But I did have a good time while I was there, spinning my web across the telephone's mouthpiece and listening to the news and the gossip."

Not So Slow.

"Sonny," said young Mr. Smith, "what time does the 11:45 train get here?"

Sonny—Just 15 minutes to 12.
